Update: POA Meeting 8/21/19

This meeting was packed with unhappy property owners who had heard that Lesley Nalley had placed charges against two of the three new Board Directors without justification. Nalley was out of line to bring charges against these Board members who were doing what every Board member should be doing and that is to stand by their duty and responsibility to protect owners' assets and guard Hot Springs Village Property Owner Association's financial stability.

Dear Editor

So the BOD/ CEO set up the meeting to take the focus off of the power play to remove Dick Garrison and Diana Podawiltz from the BOD and instead brought the focus on the Balboa Golf Course's $6 Mil Plus Comprehensive Master Plan Renovation Project.

When it came time for comments from property owners, Stephen Rust faced the BOD's bully tactics spearheaded by Chairman, Cindi Erickson, who commanded police to intercede. The officers stood beside Mr. Rust in an effort to remove him before he could talk. Mr. Rust posed no threat to anyone.

This constituted an unbelievable attempt by the BOD to stop opinions, freedom of speech or any understanding of POA decisions. We have a majority BOD that has taken this to a new level of power and control never before seen in the history of HSV without restraints or accountability. The property owners have now been pushed off the cliff without any rights. Property owners are now in a free-fall straight to disaster. Check out the facts at HSVpeople.com.
