History of the Goat Band

The Goat Band started as the core musicians for the pit orchestra of the Arkansas Repertory Theater where they played every show for more than a decade. With a shared love of jazz as well as theater music, they soon began performing as a jazz quartet at public and private locations around the state. They held a monthly jazz concert at the Lobby Bar in Little Rock. You can find more than a dozen videos of their jazz nights on YouTube. With more than a decade of playing together, no two performances are the same. They thrive on the improvisation, interaction, and interplay that only comes from years of experience, respect for each other, and also for the music.
