

Time For Talking Has Passed

Description

Demand Change

Written by Lloyd Sherman

Time for talking has passed. Whether it's 10 years down the road to bankruptcy as stated by Mr. Keck this last week, or 5-7 like many of us believe, unless a marketing program laser-focused on the market retiring or soon to retire, in combination with cutting costs occurs, the financial issues will worsen. Discretionary spending needs to stop. Staffing and administrative costs need to be reduced and we could go on. Tormey and I have researched and have the working knowledge to help guide the way to what needs to happen. Demand change. Property owners have the right to demand these changes.
